THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1875.

The Democratic Convention.

The platform published in our telegraphic report will satisfy all thinking men. The protection of the rights of all citizens is demanded, the social customs of all nationalities will be held sacred, and economy and reform in State affairs are to be the watchwords of the campaign. The latest reports say that Irwin is nominated for Governor and that good feeling prevails as the contest grows warmer.

End of the Miners' Strike.

From letters received by us yesterday from Philadelphia, we learn that the great Miners' Strike has ended. The result of this conflict between labor and capital has been to depress the money market and create great uneasiness in commercial circles. The Miners' Union has collapsed, and the stores that have been supplying them with the necessities of life have been bankrupted. The actual loss to the business of Pennsylvania is estimated at $30,000,000, in addition to the collateral depression of business. It is hoped that the failure of this communistic effort will act as a preventive to all future efforts of this kind. For a paltry difference of a cent or two on the price of mining a bushel of coal, millions of capital have laid idle, armed mobs have assassinated laboring men, innocent families have suffered untold distress, and the poor in large cities like Philadelphia have paid an enhanced price for their fuel. Now that the strike is ended it is confidently expected that all business will revive and an improvement manifest itself in the money markets of the East.

The Centennial.

In another column will be found a communication from the Governor of Georgia, setting forth his objections to issuing an appointment to a citizen of that State as Centennial Commissioner. From this it will be seen that an iron-clad oath is required of Commissioners, which would be an obstacle to the appointment of almost any citizen of a Southern State. However repugnant a Confederate might be, this oath would effectually preclude him acting as a Commissioner. The requirement of such an oath of Commissioners would also offend their friends and would prevent them participating in the proposed Centennial exercises; in fact, it would cause the whole South to stand aloof from the festivities of 1876. As the Centennial is to be a grand love-feast, in which all patriots are asked to join, forgetting past differences, all obstacles such as this oath should be removed. Patriotic Philadelphia, we know, will demand that all such barriers as this oath shall immediately be removed. It is the desire that 1876 shall witness a reunion of all patriotic Americans, forgetful of past political and sectional differences. We wish to see the sectional hates engendered by political strife buried in the grave of the civil war. We desire to see the survivors shake hands fraternally, and, finally, we desire to see the States again united States, in spirit as well as in name.

Bonner and Grant.

The most bitter denunciation of GRANT's third-term letter, is from the usually conservative New York Ledger. BONNER fairly boils over, forgets his dignity, and belabors GRANT in fish-woman style. After whacking him around in expressive, if not elegant, English, Bonner asks, "Who is he?" Well, that is a strange question for BONNER to ask. Is it possible that BONNER did not know GRANT when he whirled him through Harlem Lane seated behind Dexter? It is a sad result of this third-term excitement that BONNER's memory fails him, and he forgets GRANT, when they indulged in so much horse-talk together, which was afterwards dished up to the Ledger readers, with a little horse endorsement of GRANT from BONNER himself. We suspect that BONNER, the king of sensational newspapers, is mad because the third term letter was written to HARRY WHITE instead of "expressly for the New York Ledger." The Ledger missed a great opportunity in not obtaining the copyright of the famous third-term letter to crown its pyramid of essays by ex-presidents, ex-Judges, eminent divines and College Professors. What posters he could have got out announcing "Grant's Third-Term Letter, entered according to Act of Congress in the office of the Librarian at Washington, to appear next week." Then GRANT might have made at least $1,000 by the operation, but, as it is, the breach between BONNER and the horse-President seems irreparable.

Santa Barbara Land Grants Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, June 29th.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office has granted a patent to the Rancho Santa Rita, confirmed to Joel Ramon Mals, containing over 13,000 acres in Santa Barbara county. The patent was sent out to-day to the Surveyor-General of California.

The Tempest in Austria.

LONDON, June 30th.—A special dispatch to the Standard from Pesth, reports that the loss of life by the tempest yesterday has exceeded that of the first reported. One hundred and twenty dead bodies have been found in the Danube. Many more must have been carried away by the current.

THE CENTENNIAL CONCERN.

[From the Tulare Times, June 26th.]

The following mainly letter from the Governor of Georgia to Secretary Fish explains itself and will be read with interest and commendation by every gentleman, no matter of what political party, in the country:

STATE OF GEORGIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Atlanta, March 18, 1875.

Hon. Hamilton Fish, Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.
SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 10th inst., enclosing the appointment of Mr. George Hillier as Commissioner to represent the State of Georgia in celebrating the Centennial Anniversary of American Independence, at the city of Philadelphia, in the year 1876. Accompanying is an open letter to Mr. Hillier from yourself, advising him of his appointment, together with the printed form of an oath, which, in event of his acceptance, you direct him to execute and return that the same may be placed on file in the State Department. A portion of the oath is as follows:

"I, ———, do solemnly swear that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the United States since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought, nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority, power or Constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto."

By requiring Commissioners to take the oath, the Southern States, in effect, excluded from all vote or participation in the celebration referred to. It must be known to the President that almost the entire body of the white people at the South were engaged, actively or otherwise, in behalf of their section in the late war between the States, and that they can take no part in the exposition under the requirements now made of them. Indeed, if the Commissioners or official representatives of the States are required to take such an oath, I see no reason why the exhibitors and even the visitors at the exhibition, may not be called upon to do the same thing.

I know of no provision of law which requires any such oath to be taken by the Commissioners, and what good is expected to be accomplished by going beyond the requirements of the law in this regard I am at a loss to imagine. I may be pardoned for suggesting, at this point, that Georgia was one of the thirteen States which revolted against British authority, and that she has the same interest and the same right to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of American Independence that Pennsylvania or New York has. Her delegates signed the Declaration of Independence, and I have yet to learn if her sons have ever hesitated to make any sacrifice necessary to maintain the great principles enunciated in that Declaration. And yet it is now proposed, not only to the people in general, but to the representatives of the States, to exact an oath which practically excludes them from all participation therein.

Candor constrains me to say that if this gratuitous, wanton requirement is insisted upon, the people of Georgia will not, with my consent, take any part in the proposed partisan celebration at Philadelphia. I had supposed that the people of all the States were expected to take part on the joyous occasion, and that not only the people of these States, of every creed, color and condition, but the lovers of liberty throughout the civilized world would be cordially welcomed without any preliminary oaths or exactions of any kind. If in this I have been mistaken, and if, as it now seems, only a partisan celebration by the dominant political party of the country is contemplated, then, I regret to say, that a great opportunity has been lost, and that neither the Governor nor the people of Georgia will be responsible for that misfortune.

I must ask to be pardoned for having troubled the President to appoint a Commissioner to represent the State. My desire was that Georgia should be represented at the celebration by a native-born citizen; but candor compels me to say that I am not acquainted with a native fit to represent the State who could or would take the oath required. Certainly Mr. Hillier cannot take it, and I respectfully decline to be the channel through which he is invited to do so.

I have the honor to return herewith the commission intended for Mr. Hillier, with accompanying papers, and to ask that I be allowed to withdraw his nomination for the position of Commissioner.

I have the honor to be your obedient servant.

JAMES M. SMITH.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

ITS PROCEEDINGS YESTERDAY.

A Comprehensive Platform.

THE NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30th.—I. P. M. The Democratic State Convention was called to order this morning at 10:15. The Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business reported, recommending for Permanent President, Governor Downey; Secretaries, H. W. Miller and T. J. Shackelford, with a long list of Vice Presidents and Sergeants at Arms.

The order of business reported was: Nominations and the appointment of a State Central Committee, one from each Judicial District.

On motion the report was amended, so that each Judicial District shall name a member of the State Central Committee, and the members at large be elected by the Convention. Adopted as amended.

The list of delegates was then read. The report of the Committee on Platform and Resolutions was then read by the Chairman, E. J. Lewis. The platform declares the party opposed to Federal interference with the affairs of individual States, condemns the Republican party for extravagance and corruption and for a system of inconvertible currency; deprecates the nepotism of the President and the Force bill and favors a Constitutional Convention to frame a new State Constitution. Favors a strict construction of the Constitution, favors the revenue tariff, and hard currency; a reduction of expenditures of State and county and municipal governments. Is opposed to a diversion of the school fund to any other purposes than those provided by law. Asserts the necessity of legislative control of all corporations, railroad or otherwise, and the duty of Government to control the waters of the State for irrigation or other purposes. It claims that there is no further need of recording principles of party as regards subsidies, they having been already sufficiently announced. Asserts that the local Governments are sufficient to cope with the Chinese question, and demands the amendment of the Burlingame treaty, reducing it to merely a commercial convention. Favors the speedy completion of the thirty-second parallel railroad under proper governmental restrictions. Favors equal taxation and opposes all double taxation. Opposes all laws tending to regulate private personal habits, known in general as prohibitory laws, as against the principles of the party. In conclusion, it invites the cooperation of all persons in carrying out the above principles. An amendment was embodied in the platform, pledging the party to correct the evil of land monopoly, and the platform so amended was adopted.

Nominations of candidates being next in order, Byrne of Nevada placed in nomination Thomas Findley, of Nevada.

Lockwood, of Yuba, nominated Jas. A. Johnston, of San Francisco. Rosborough, of Siskiyou, presented the name of William Irwin, of Amarador.

Archer of Santa Clara placed in nomination C. T. Ryland of Santa Clara.

Captain John Mullan of San Francisco nominated Philip A. Roach, of the San Francisco Examiner.

On motion the nominations were declared closed.

A motion to adjourn for an hour to give candidates an opportunity to read the platform was lost.

Some delay occurring in the appearance of candidates, the motion to adjourn was renewed and carried.

LATER.

We hear from private sources that Irwin was nominated after several ballots. At last accounts no other nominations had been made.

Dr. and Mrs. Brown did the honors in hospitable style and the guests lingered long and pleasantly.

At a regular meeting of Los Angeles Lodge No. 35, I. O. O. F., held on Wednesday evening, June 30th, at Odd Fellows' Hall, the following officers were elected for the term commencing July 1st, 1875: Henry Wartenberg, N. G.; J. F. Burns, V. G.; A. Frank, R. S.; Ben. A. Stanard, Permanent Secretary; A. Fleischman, Treasurer; C. Meyer, C. Brode, and S. H. Mott, Trustees.

The Inyo Independent says, in speaking of Santa Monica, "We have received the ad, through a San Francisco agent, at about one-quarter rates, and of course cannot give it the usual display." They put it in a quarter of a column with Santa Monica in large letters in two places, all the poetic description is in very diminutive type, requiring a microscope to see it.

We learn that the Electrical Construction and Maintenance Company of San Francisco have contracted with the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad Company for the construction of a telegraph line from Santa Monica to this city, as soon as the material can be obtained. Mr. Haines, with superintend the construction of the new line.

Judge Sepulveda left yesterday for Ventura and Santa Barbara. He will stay a few days at the Camulus Ranch, where an interesting school examination is to be had. The Judge will hold Court in San Buenaventura to the 18th of July, and from that time to the 28th in Santa Barbara. The Cotton-Norton murder case will probably come before him.

The annual examination of the pupils of Lawlor's Institute will commence this morning and continue throughout the day and Friday. Professor Lawlor desires us to say that a general invitation is extended to the patrons of the school and all friends of education to attend the examination. It is the desire of the Professor, as well as of the pupils, that those who visit the school will conduct the examination. The text-books used in the school will be furnished to those present. Professor Lawlor is noted for the thorough instruction which he imparts, and a very interesting series of exercises may be expected at the examination.

The Stock Report says: "Since the publication of an article on the Los Angeles and Independence Railway, a few days since, we have ascertained that the iron for the first forty miles of the railroad has been purchased and shipped. The iron and platform cars will come here via the Panama line, pursuant to a special contract. The road will probably connect Los Angeles and Santa Monica by the 1st of August. It is the intention of the company to run a line of elegant steamers, after the style of the famous Long Island Sound boats, between Santa Monica and San Francisco. The time between San Francisco and Los Angeles will be reduced to twenty-four hours.

The California rifle team won the match against the New Yorkers. For the convenience of such as cannot lay their hands upon the record, the aggregate of the practice scores are appended, together with that of the decisive match:

| | 200 Yds. | 500 Yds. | Total. |
|------------|----------|----------|--------|
| May 13th. | 35 | 190 | 225 |
| June 21st. | 34 | 382 | 416 |
| June 25th. | 34 | 220 | 254 |
| June 26th. | 35 | 253 | 388 |

Against the last California team scored 255 points at the 200 yards shooting and 250 at 500 yards. It will thus be seen that the California team is the winner by twenty-three points, having beaten their opponents twenty points at the short range and three at the long range.

The Los Angeles German Dyeing and Cleaning Establishment, 34 Los Angeles street, notify the public that they are doing first-class work in silk, satin, woolen and crape goods. Blumenthal & Lippold are deserving of patronage.

Olive Oil.

An Eastern paper says: "The lovers of pure olive oil will be glad to hear that the product of the oil groves in Tunis and the Barbary States during the past year has been so great as to cause a decided fall in prices. Since the manufacture of lard oil in this country, great frauds have been practiced in France and Italy by mixing the lard oil with the husks of the olive to give it the right tint and flavor. This is put up in foreign-shaped bottles and flasks, and labeled in a foreign language, and so skillfully is the operation performed that the buyers are often puzzled to decide between the real and its imitation." We should pity an expert that could not distinguish true olive oil from its counterfeit by the taste alone. But a moderately cold day affords a test that is conclusive. A mixture of lard oil at once turns white, leaving the olive oil fluid and exposing the adulteration.

Answer to an Open Letter.

An open letter to the editor of the HERALD, published in the Express last evening, takes issue with us, in our biographical sketch of Moody, the self-appointed evangelist. Any candid reader who examines the editorial in question, will see that the Rev. Mr. Allis' objections are strained and far-fetched. We cast no slur on religion, threw no reproaches on sincere followers of Christ, and would not allude to the "open letter." We did not correct the Reverend Gentleman's quotation from scripture. Our early theological education was not neglected—in fact we were born with the Lord's Prayer in our mouth, were fed on "The Lord is my Shepherd," and put to sleep with the Westminster Shorter Catechism. As we matured, we read such thrilling literature as Scott's Worthies, Annals of the Persecuted, and Fox's Book of Martyrs; and our picture gallery, was ornamented with touching pictures of John Rogers at the Stake, Execution of George Wishart, hanging of Andrew Melville, John Knox preaching before Mary, etc. Thus when a Presbyterian preacher comes at us with a quotation from the Bible, we just draw on our Covenanter education and compare notes. So when the Rev. Mr. Allis gives us the following blow, we must answer:

"I fear, Mr. Editor, you are not in sympathy with the religion of Christ, and that your attempts to kick Moody and Sankey in their wonderful work is like the experience of Paul as he went to Damascus, where one met him and said, 'It is hard for thee to kick against the goads.'"

The quotation meant to be made in concluding the sentence is contained in the last clause of the 5th verse of the 9th chapter of Acts, and should read, "It is hard for thee to kick against the goads." We know Moody better than the Reverend gentleman knows his Testament, but we can see no reason for mangling the quotation as is done in the "open letter." We did not class brother Moody with Beelcher or any of those bad fellows, hence the quotation was in-apropos. We suggest in conclusion that the Rev. Mr. Allis should study the history of Paul a little more closely before he rushes into the theological field with us, for this is our best hold. We hope the writer of the "open letter" will not charge the poor printers with the mistake, for Ayers of the Express is a very pious man, the foreman and printers are biblical students of distinction, and the only wicked man of the concern—Lynch—has gone to attend the Democratic State Convention.

LETTER FROM JUNCTION CITY.

Dr. Hall Heard From—Another Standard on California Exposed—Continued Immigration from Kansas—State of the Crops—An Interesting Letter.

EDITOR HERALD: I am just in receipt of the San Francisco Call of June 9th, containing a very slanderous article concerning Mr. Cole of Lawrence and myself, and feel that although I am not anxious to attain newspaper notoriety, yet in this case I should do myself great injustice to allow it to pass, and my friends in California to think it true, unless I should "rise to explain"; especially after receiving so many favors at their hands, not only from my particular friends in Los Angeles and San Francisco, but also from the medical and drug fraternity of both these cities, from whom I received so many professional courtesies and with whom I made so many pleasant acquaintances. Therefore, I have to request that you will be kind enough to give this an insertion in your worthy paper.

The facts are, that on our way home on the morning of the 11th of May, and while waiting at the Union Depot, West Kansas City, we met a gentleman who was an acquaintance of Mr. Cole, and who was waiting for the morning train, and I had an introduction to him. When he learned we were just returning from California, the conversation turned upon the immense immigration to that State, and we spoke deprecatingly of the stampede of clothing, dry goods, boots, shoes, hats, etc., which they will sell at bottom prices. Call and examine their stock.

G. J. Campbell of Vallejo will deliver the Fourth of July oration at Northville.

The Bazaar, corner of Main and Requena streets, has just received an immense stock of new goods, consisting of clothing, dry goods, boots, shoes, hats, etc., which they will sell at bottom prices. Call and examine their stock.

The weather was unfavorable and the attendance small. This is the first time the Lord Mayor of London has visited Ireland in state.

THURSDAY, JULY 1, 1875.
Evarts and Porter.

The efforts made by Mr. Evarts were of a very exhausting nature. He not only wore the subject threadbare, but he wore out himself. Porter, too, is severely exhausted. These men ought to be well paid, inasmuch as their services have been rendered at the expense of health—perhaps of life. What I mean is that such protracted and tremendous conflicts must tell powerfully on the frame; must impair vitality; must tend to the shortening of human existence. Both Porter and Evarts are much enfeebled and it will require the entire summer to give restoration. The danger of such extraordinary efforts is well known at the bar, as it is at the theatre, and hence the public will not be surprised to learn that physicians have been constantly looking after these legal gladiators. The inner life of these men will not come before the world, but it is said that they have been under peculiar care, and that every possible appliance has been used to prepare them for the conflict. One of the principal points has been stimulating diet. Another is the bath. Sleep, which is so necessary and yet so difficult for an excited brain, has been induced by reading aloud and by soothing music. In this manner, to say nothing of alcoholic stimulus, they have been toned up for the occasion. Now that this is past, the effect will be felt during a long and painful period of reaction. The fact is, all of Beecher's lawyers should be taken up to Pockskill and put out to grass for the whole season. New York Letter to Rochester Democrat.

Two Chinamen Murdered in Tuolumne County
On last Sunday forenoon a Chinaman was murdered and robbed on the top of Table Mountain, Montezuma, near Segard's house, on the Peck and trail. It is related by a Chinaman that himself and deceased were passing along the trail, and he stopped for some purpose while his companion passed on; that when a little in advance his partner was stopped by a white man, who stepped from behind a pine tree and demanded his money. On being refused, the man presented a pistol, fired, and shot him in the breast; dead; that he was then robbed of $8.50; in another pocket he had $12.50 which the assassin did not find. He then (the live Chinaman) came up, and on demand, quietly gave up the $10 he had, and was kindly permitted to take his life along with him. He gave the alarm at Segard's, and though search was made, no trace of the white highwayman could be found. Many look upon the Chinaman's story as fishy, and think he knows more about the murder and robbery than he relates. On Friday last the body of a Chinaman was found in the brush between Jacksonville and Chinese Camp. His hands and feet were tied, giving evidence that he had been packed there on a pole by some of his countrymen. His jugular was severed and his head nearly cut from his body as if by a hatchet, or axes; also his wrist were severely cut, showing the mode of treatment to be bleeding to death. We understand that the Chinaman was of but little account, having outlived his usefulness, and is customary with Chinese companies to rid themselves of such incurables.—Tuolumne Independent, June 26th.

Where is Tommy?
(New York Correspondent, St. Louis Republic.)
One year ago to a fashionable mother was born a baby boy. She got a wet-nurse, who remained with her six months, and then, as the child liked the bottle best, the wet-nurse was discharged. When the boy was born the grandmother was there from her distant Western home, and shortly thereafter returned, to come no more till this summer. In the meantime the young mother has seen her child sometimes once a day, sometimes once a week as the case might be. The first thing on grandma's arrival was a loud call for Tommy, and Tommy was forthcoming. He was kissed and hugged and praised and petted, and grandma just lugged him about till finally, old lady like, she stripped him to see how much he had grown. Then came a shriek, "where was Tommy's extra toe?" Tommy was born with six toes; grandma knew it. The family doctor was summoned, and when an examination of Tommy was made the M. D. unhesitatingly pronounced it not the Simon-pure Tommy by any means. There had been a malformation of the original Tom's feet that time would not have remedied. Then all sorts of speculations were in order. But one servant had anything to do with the baby, and she had been for six months away, no one knows in what direction. Thomas sets up in a dubious position, if he ain't Tommy, who is he?
Fifteen hundred tourists arrived at Santa Cruz between June 1st and 24th.
The grain that has been irrigated in Tulare county is much larger than that growth without irrigation.
Dr. A. K. P. Bradbury, a well-known physician, died at Santa Barbara on Wednesday last.
The Grangers will have a Fourth of July celebration at Centerville, on Saturday, July 3d.
